

1. How does Firewall protect our system?

A firewall is a software program that provides unauthorized access to and from computer.

Firewalls are hardware or software based security system that controls traffic which comes and goes over network